

MasterBatemans Bay HHH

The Egalitarian Hash

Where sobriety in moderation is tolerated

Trash Volume: Mezzo Forte

Run Number: 201 6 May 2023

Hair: Two Fathers

Weather: Another miracle.

Afters: Yep

Score: Well-deserved 5

Despite spectacular weather due to the superb meteorological abilities of the stand in RA, GeeEmm and Hair and perhaps due to competition from the gap between NZ and Australian Nash Hashes, the scenic delights of Italy and other distractions, (according to the official and well-maintained archives, similar distractions applied on Run 84 May 2013) there was a small but perfectly formed group gathered at Malua Bay for an amazing experience of magnificence and spring-like flowering acacias on the well-marked trail.

Gobbles, nursing a recently reattached retina and CountHerFeet, nursing a recently refurbished lower limb, led the sick parade. Her ermine regals HRH Majesty Mighty Aphrodite was fashionably late. Something to do with Charlie needing to borrow the coach.

But I digress.

The pack sprinted westwards and southwards before losing the trail. Leading sprinters FishFinger and Meat to Pleeze You looked hither and thither when they shoulda been looking yon. A quick call to higher powers established that the trail set off in a generally uphill direction along some girtish bits beside Mackenzie's Beach before meandering along the cliff top portion of the newly fashioned walking trail to the stunning Hash Vista at the end of Pretty Point.

Where the breathless pack paused to sight a local drug runner cruising into the bay on non-sail power before lurching back onto the trail towards the inland route to the sewerage pumping station.

FishFinger and Meat to Pleeze You remained near the front of the pack as Her Regalness joined the procession around the scenic cliff tops and onwards to Malua Beach Park before a slightly soggy trail along some back fences near the pongy duck creek. Having left Gobbles somewhere to make his own truncated way to the drink stop Two Fathers finally caught up with the bemused pack who were wandering around looking for trail (again) and turned them in the correct direction. DUI espied a mark upon the bitumen across the road and the pack meandered towards that tennis courts led now by Easy (who also had to be redirected) as they turned up to the florally abundant single track among the Acacia Mearnsii, which seems a bit confused about the weather and thus, popped out into a hay fever pollinated nuisance along the trail to the drink stop outside the scenically located fire shed where the pack was augmented by Just Jude, Doggy Bag and the wounded GobbleFeets.

The scene was observed by another bird or maybe he was waiting for come crumbs from the Aldi chips.

It was all down hill from there to the circle location where the fire bucket was ignited and charges were concocted. Run reporter FishFinger awarded a generous 5 for scenic newness which the Hair modestly accepted. HRH Mighty Aphrodite was severely punished for tardy appearance. And for something else but I forget what it was. DUI copped a charge before the lusty rendition of the MBH3 national song and a poor taste joke closed proceedings. The pack fell ravenously upon the meat balls (note not personal possessive) and spring rolls while others exercised the prerogative to poke and stoke the fire bucket before retiring to the upper level for more food and wine.

Did I mention there was a coronation thing?
Or that the fire lasted until 0210?

Em tasol.
