

MasterBatemans Bay HHH

Where sobriety in moderation is tolerated

Trash Volume : #V#144v2

Run Number: 144 May 2018.

Weather: Coastal perfection.

Hair: Sticky Date and Captain Pugwash (Limping)

Afters: Long and involved

Score: 2 or 3

The word had apparently got around that the GeeEmm in perpetuity was having a week off, so they turned up in their droves. Except for Haemorrhoid who turned up in a borrowed clapped-out Merc for this month's grand entrance. Something about a charity bash and 500 dollar wrecks. (But I digress or do not want to explore the opportunities further.)

Pole Dancer turned up after about a year's absence. Maybe the promise of a fire bucket and marshmallows (even without Soft Centre present) trumped the grand kids and other options. Sir Pository called in from up the road (and later from a local 60th just as everyone else except the newly named Limp Dick and Legover [see more later]) was off to bed.

The run looked like this:

If you had a Telstra phone instead of the cheap Aldi account, it might even have joined up the end to the beginning. This sort of closely resembles the original run of April 2004 (or thereabouts) and could resemble the 150th in a few months. Better hope for a low tide or something then. Anyway....

The recently betrothed and frolicsome Fluid Movement led the assault on the trail followed enthusiastically by the ageless Roidy fresh from another park run. Likealotta, showing the benefit of a few sessions in the gym, also set a pretty fair pace along with Too Keen, well beyond the capacity of Gobbles and CountHerFeet to do anything but admire from the rear. Basil Brush and Sadistic Countess (returned from the little island) were in there somewhere too although the view from the satellite was a bit blurry. Pop Tart walked and so did a few others. Meat, thinking of his recent successful fishing foray as well as Just Guy and Just Suzie wandered along aimlessly (the latter two in blissful ignorance of the forthcoming naming). B2 did his thing too. It was sort of one of those barmy arvos you get at the coast.

So the mob eventually got back from the drink stop and chattered among themselves as the bucket was fired up and the GeeEmm (Emeritus) Gobbles and Captain Pugwash donned their respective regalia and called the rabble to attention. (That is a sort of imaginary concept when Pop Tart and CHF are in full conversational flight as usual.)

According to ill-informed saucers close to round circles and likely fake news on Facebook there was a lot of chatter.

Chattering class assembled.

Somewhere along the way Just Guy and Just Suzie were invited into the circle and an interminable discussion of their sex lives, motorcycling exploits and Santa suits ensued until some suitable nomenclature options emerged. Due to his crook shank Just Guy will now henceforth and frevver beknown in Hashdom as Limp Dick. Due to her deftness in motorcycle mounting Just Susie is now more appropriately and widely etc known as Leg Over.

A tuneless rendition of the MBH3 National Song ensued. (See Facebook if you dare.) There ended the circle but not the frivolities over which the usual tasteful veil will be drawn. Breakfast at 0830.
